Information on the acquisition of Kremer GmbH by ERIKS

Dear Sir or Madam,

We would like to officially inform you that ERIKS has taken over the business activities of Kremer GmbH with effect from 15 December 2025. As part of the takeover, Kremer Technology GmbH, a company of the ERIKS Group, will continue the business activities of Kremer GmbH. The takeover also includes existing contracts and (individual) orders with you (please note: if these date from before 15 December 2025, but only if they do not constitute claims that must be registered in the insolvency table in accordance with Section 38 of the Insolvency Act (InsO) and if they have been entered into with the consent of the (provisional) insolvency administrator). The insolvency administrator of Kremer GmbH has already approved the takeover.

We have summarized the changes to the master data resulting from the takeover, including new account details, in the appendix for your convenience. We kindly ask you to make the appropriate adjustments.

The following applies to you:

- Deliveries to you that were already completed before 15 December 2025 will continue to be invoiced by Kremer GmbH. Payments for these invoices must continue to be made to the special insolvency account of Kremer GmbH known to you.
- Deliveries to you from 15 December 2025 onwards will be made by Kremer Technology GmbH, which will also invoice you for them. Payment must be made to Kremer Technology GmbH. Please note the account details in the attachment.

We would like to take this opportunity to briefly introduce ERIKS to you:

ERIKS is an expert in components that make a decisive contribution to the performance of industrial products and processes – particularly in the areas of sealing and polymer technology, industrial seals, industrial valves and control technology, industrial hoses, fluid power, drive technology, occupational safety and operational maintenance. We put our customers first, understanding their performance challenges, and using our application know-how to design, engineer and supply the solutions they need to improve performance. Further information about ERIKS Germany and ERIKS International can be found at www.eriks.de.

The acquisition creates a clear perspective for the future direction of the company. Integration into the ERIKS Group enables us to maintain proven structures while at the same time introducing targeted measures for further development in order to strengthen our cooperation in the long term.

For you as a valued customer, this means:

- Your current contacts will continue to be available to you.
- Products, services and delivery processes will remain unchanged.
- We will fully meet existing delivery commitments and those taken over by us.
- In future, you will benefit from our strong network and expanded range of services.

By placing future orders, you confirm your agreement to the transfer of your existing contractual relationships with Kremer GmbH to Kremer Technology GmbH. We thank you for your trust and loyalty and look forward to continuing our successful cooperation.

If you have any questions, please contact your usual contact person.

Kind regards

Hans-Peter Mischke
